

Best Practice -1

Title of the practice: Imbibing human value in students with practicing (IHVP).

Objective of the practice: To participate in medical camps providing basic health care / medical advices to the poor people who are deprived of basic medical facilities.

Intended outcomes: Development of skill and human values with practice, such as interacting with patients, validating prescription, dispensing of medicines and providing advice to the patients.

Underlying principle: Development of skill, ethics, morality and professional standards.

The contextual feature or challenging issues needed to be addressed in implementing the practice: The practice includes participation in medical camps conducted in association with NSS, State Government or any Private stake holder in the areas which are deprived of medical facilities or in rural areas.

Medical camps provide the poor people to undergo free check-ups and to advice patients for any long term or chronic diseases and identified before a small health problem turn into fatal.

Implementing the practice is led to various challenges:

Unhealthy habits of rural people (alcoholic), Less emphasis on preventive care in rural areas, Delay in diagnosis of illness, Due to less expenditure of government on medical services in rural areas.

Uniqueness in context of high educational institutes: Conduction of medical camps helps in informing public about various health issues, cautioning and bringing awareness in public to improve health.

Due to poor development of health infrastructure in rural areas when compared to urban areas has built a gap, the gap can be filled by conducting medical camps.

Higher educational institute can make provision of conducting general health camps for health check-ups or specialized medical camps such as dental, diabetic, cardiac and eye camps in advising and providing basic medical facilities serving the poor.

Constraints: Shortage and overloaded health care professional such as doctors, nurses and paramedical staff who are key player as in providing health care system is a big constrain.

Cost effective diagnosis and treatment for complicated disease. Collaborating of all the health care professional under one roof due to lack of availability. Finding out a financial assistance or resource is also a major concern.
